

Professor Richard Page - Short Bio 2018:

Professor Richard Page is an orthopaedic shoulder and upper limb surgeon living and working in Geelong, Victoria since 2003. He studied medicine at the University of Tasmania, completed basic surgical training in the RAN in Sydney and advanced orthopaedic training in Victoria. His Fellowship training was in trauma, shoulder, upper limb and hand surgery in the UK, Europe and the USA. He was appointed as the foundation St John of God and Barwon Health Chair of Orthopaedics at Deakin University in 2014. He is Director of Orthopaedics at Barwon Health and the Barwon Centre of Orthopaedic Research and Education (B-CORE). He has been co-awarded over AUS$2.9M in research and educational grants and teaches medical students, registrars, surgical fellows and regularly presents invited lectures nationally and internationally. He has over 100 publications, is a reviewer for multiple journals, is Specialty Editor for the ANZ Journal of Surgery and Associate Editor for the International Journal of Shoulder Surgery and the Journal of Wrist Surgery.

His research interests include outcomes of shoulder and wrist surgery, upper limb osteoarthritis and joint replacement surgery, biomechanics and a range of trauma outcome topics. He is on the steering committee for the Victorian Orthopaedic Trauma Outcomes Registry (VOTOR), the Expert Reference Group for HPV, the Advisory Committee of Medical Devices for the TGA and is the SESA Representative to the AOA National Joint Replacement Registry. Richard is Co-Chair of the International Shoulder Arthroplasty Consortium (ISAC). He is a recent recipient of grants and awards from Deakin University, the Australian Orthopaedic Association Research Foundation, the Victorian Orthopaedic Research Trust and St John of God Hospital Research.